

Information update: Time to relax and reflect

Dear UCC Students,

We are in the midst of a very busy week of Assessment Boards. I would like to thank the academic and support staff for working round the clock to ensure all your work has been marked, moderated and verified. Due to the two-week extension for all, this has been a mammoth task with extremely tight deadlines. We look forward to publishing the results next week for all students.

Thank you, our students, for your hard work and dedication during this academic year. It is time now for you to take some time to relax and reflect on just how much each and every one of you have achieved over the past two semesters. And, in particular, how well you have rose to the challenges of online learning and juggling responsibilities during the pandemic.

For those of you who have resubmission work to complete over the summer, please do get in touch with your lecturers over the next two weeks. You will know exactly what is expected of you by next week Monday (29/06). Please remember, there are no extensions for resubmissions.

If you need advice and guidance on academic appeals, please refer to the HE Academic Support page on Moodle.

Academic year 2020/21

In preparation for next academic year, we will be releasing timetables in due course. Once we know for certain how the new lockdown rules will be applied for colleges and universities, we will update you on how we intend to deliver (on-campus / online). Teaching will start the week of 14 September with enrolment scheduled during the week of 7 September (more details will be released soon). Progressing students will have the opportunity to enrol online and we will be releasing more information about the process over the next few weeks.

Whilst the summer is for relaxing, please remember to do some subject specific reading to ensure you hit the ground running in the new academic year. Look out for updated reading lists on the module pages.

Similarly, those of you who require work experience to be logged, remember you can start this process early and indeed over the summer. Do get in touch with your module lecturer to find out the requirements.

Lastly, more feedback welcome – If you would like to take part in the QDP survey on online learning, please follow the link on the Moodle landing page (Calling all Students!)
